

MAKING A DIFFERENCE
FOR OVER
40 YEARS

YWCA INTERNATIONAL BOUTIQUE

In June 2018, we sadly bid farewell to the YWCA Toronto International Boutique. For over 40 years, the Boutique has worked to provide fair trade and local artisan goods, with all proceeds going to support YWCA World projects around the globe. We wanted to share with you just a few moments of that admirable history.

The YWCA of Metropolitan Toronto International Boutique invites you to attend arpileras from dictatorship to democracy an exhibition of Equestrian from Cuba Friday, March 22, 12:30 pm Saturday, March 23, 10-5 pm, 1991 The YWCA Recreation Centre 2532 Yonge Street 487-7151

It started with small events run by women aimed at raising funds to support the YWCA's "World Service Objectives," such as an art sale at the North York YWCA in 1964, and an annual card game and bazaar at the Willowdale YWCA in the 1960's.

These small events grew into more formal sales, selling greeting cards and gift items in a YWCA Toronto program centre. This was the beginning of the YWCA Toronto International Boutique.

In the early 1990's, the Boutique outgrew its space, and moved into its first storefront.

Throughout the late 1980's and early 1990's, the Boutique and YWCA Toronto together co-hosted panel discussions, public speakers, and exhibitions on world issues including the environment, prejudice and discrimination, women's equity issues, and the importance of fair trade goods. The Boutique has also supported other charitable organizations throughout the years, including UNICEF, Ten Thousand Villages, and Amnesty International, among others.

Proceeds from the Boutique have always gone to support YWCA World international development projects.

We are dedicated to continuing the important work of the International Boutique and its generations of dedicated volunteers, notably Anne Wood and Marcia McKay.

The funds raised by the International Boutique will continue to sponsor and support women-led community programs in developing countries. The International Boutique will be missed, but the spirit of its purpose will live on.
