April 10, 2024 10-11a.m. – FREE Skilled Trades Program Information Session - Webinar

YWCA Toronto – Women in Trades and Technology (WiTT) offers women and gender diverse people a chance to build a sustainable future in non-traditional occupations for women. The eligibility for our WiTT programs extends to Ontario residents who hold Canadian citizenship, Permanent Resident, Convention Refugees, and Ukrainians under the CUAET program. * Unfortunately, due to our funding criteria, we are unable to register Refugee Claimants, work permit, international students with work permit. Join this session to learn about STAR 4-Women (Skilled Trades Awareness & Readiness) Program, and our Free (tentative) Pre-Apprenticeship Training Programs-Painter-Decorator, Terrazzo, Tile & Marble Setter and Horticulture Technician Program.

April 16, 19, & 23, 2024 10:00a.m.-Noon –Self- Marketing Series – Hybrid: Part 1 & 2 Online, Part 3 In-person at 222 Dixon Road, Suite 207

Prepare for your next professional opportunity by learning practical strategies of self-marketing. You may have all the skills and experience for a job, but if you do not market yourself appropriately, you may miss your chance to be interviewed or hired. Join us in this three-part series where you will learn how to create an effective resume, develop your very own elevator pitch, and practice your interview skills. Upon completing this three-part session, participants will receive a Self-Marketing Certificate.

April 18, 2024 10-11:30a.m. Internationally Trained Professionals Info Session - Webinar

Join us in this information session to learn about the opportunities for Internationally trained professionals offered by the Toronto District School Board. The Enhanced Language Training (ELT) program bridges newcomers' professional backgrounds with new careers in Toronto – for free. Have you ever been told that you need “Canadian experience” to get a job in Canada? Gain industry-specific instruction, networking, and work placement opportunities in any of these sectors: Accounting; Office Administration and Customer Relations; Engineering; Financial Services; Health and Wellness; Information Technology; and Sales and Marketing.

April 24, 2024 10a.m.- Noon – Artificial Intelligence (AI) for Beginners - Webinar

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is impacting the future of workplaces by implementing machines to perform tasks that require human intelligence. Understanding the language, concepts and patterns of AI can support your employability skills and prepare you for the workplace. This session will provide an overview of AI and Generative AI concepts and explore their relevance and application for professionals working within a non-technical environment.
